Character Training for Workplace
The C3 Concept:

All of the programs offered by Strata Leadership—including assessments, coaching, training, and organizational development—focus on a combination of character and competence in order to produce the type of consistency that makes a world-class organization.

Great leaders know that long-term success is not just a matter of knowledge and skills. It takes character and integrity to overcome the traditional problems businesses face and create a positive, engaging, and productive workplace culture.
